Ewyn Charles

Soulful, passionate, and engaging, Ewyn Charles delivers superb vocals and expert guitar & violin music with his extensive repertoire of cover songs and originals. His 'Soulful Beach Groove' style is prized at Disney Hotels, the Ritz-Carlton, and Terranea Resort, as well as neighborhood restaurants, pubs, yacht clubs, festivals, weddings, and corporate events. An outstanding solo performer, Ewyn also has great partners in his band 'A La Plage'. Growing up in an international family outside Paris, France, the bilingual multi-instrumentalist and vocalist was immersed in the sounds of the world. He played violin in a classical orchestra, bass in a Reggae band, and has never stopped singing and performing. With a degree from Boston's Berklee College of Music, he's following in the footsteps of Van Morrison, Bob Marley, and Eva Cassidy, combining infectious party songs with heart-tugging numbers. His prodigious repertoire covers practically every genre and era. Simply put, he plays songs that people like! A typical performance can take the audience on a sonic journey from Sinatra to Surf guitar, Kenny Chesney to Foo Fighters, and maybe even a side trip in his native French with some Irish favorites thrown into the mix! He can also provide instrumental guitar music to fill the background vibe of just about any event.

BANDS / GROUPS

	SteelHeart (Miljenko Matijevic) SteelHeart's self-titled debut album 'SteelHeart' was released in 1990, bringing them almost immediate commercial success, with critics comparing their forceful hard rock sound to Led Zeppelin. Since then, Miljenko and bandmates have showcased their broad influences and the raw strength of his vocals; their sound drawing comparisons to hard rock and pop metal greats like Ratt and Whitesnake. The original lineup included Miljenko Matijevic (Vox, Guitar, Piano), Chris Risola (Guitar), Frank Di Costanzo (Guitar), James Ward (Bass), and John Fowler (Drums). The guys found themselves hitting the big time as their first album reached #40 on the Billboard 200 chart in 1990, the band's fan base growing swiftly around the world. "SteelHeart" sold 33,000 albums on its first day in Japan alone. Before long, the album hit platinum – and its power ballad, "She's Gone," hit #1 on the international charts, staying there 17 weeks. The second single, "I'll Never Let You Go (Angel Eyes)" reached #14 on the Billboard charts. Another song, "Can't Stop Me Loving' You" further showcased Miljenko's vocal range, but this time, Risola's lead guitar skills were also noticed. SteelHeart's next effort album-wise, "Tangled In Reins," released July 10, 1992, had a more mixed eclectic song style. With heavy hitting, hard driving songs like "Loaded Mutha", "SteelHeart",

	“Electric Love Child”, and fun-loving “Sticky Side Up,” to tear-jerking ballads such as “Mama Don’t You Cry.” to name a few. The song, “SteelHeart” featured Miljenko hitting the highest note of his song catalogue. While the ballad “Mama Don’t You Cry” charted #1 in many East Asian Countries, including Hong Kong, prompting their live unplugged performance in Hong Kong followed by an extensive unplugged tour of Asia in September, 1992. The album did not reap the same commercial success as SteelHeart’s debut album, reaching only #144 on Billboard charts, signaling the grunge-sound invasion was starting to take force in the music business. Genre: Metal, Rock, Fusion  Website: Steelheart.com  Instagram: @steelheart01  Spotify: Click Here
